Frank Kidnappers Admit Crime

TWO YOUNG MEN ARE SONS OF CHICAGO MILLIONAIRES

COMPANION BLOWS

Chicago, May 31 (INS).—The
Franks case is solved. Loeb and Leopold are the murderers of 13 year
old Robert Franks and kidnaping to obtain a ransom was behind the
crime.

So declared States Attorney Crowe
early today, after an all night grill-
ing of Nathan Leopold, Jr., star student of the University of Chicago and Richard Loeb, son of Albert Loeb,
millionaire vice president of Sears,
Roebuck and Company.

Their confessions, Crowe said,
would be forthcoming shortly.

Chicago, May 31 (INS).—Complete
confession that they had kidnaped and slain 13-year-old Robert Franks, son of a neighbor and friend of one of them, was made early today by Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb,
both sons of millionaires. The kidnaping was planned last November in a spirit of adventure, they said, and
young Franks just chanced to come along on the day and at the time and
place they had plotted to abduct some
one. He was killed almost at once,
strangled after being rendered unconscious by a blow on the head with a chisel, and the letter demanding $10,- 000 ransom sent to his father.

The confessions came at the close
of a night of grilling when a chauffeur for the Leopold family gave information which completely shattered
the carefully concocted alibi of the youngsters.

Thus is solved, according to the
prosecutor, a mystery that for ten
days has puzzled and tantalized the
authorities ever since the nude and horrified body of young Franks, son of Jacob Franks, another millionaire and
friend and neighbor of young Loeb,
was found under a culvert in a lonely
part in the south end of the city.

At the authorities have all along maintained would be the case, it was the pair of tortoise shell spectacles found near the boy's body that led them to the two youths who now are arrested.

When a thousand and one other
clues had been followed up and discarded, time and again the detectives
returned to these glasses as the one thing that would solve the case. Every oculist in the city was enlisted and
they and the officers delved into records, seeking the one prescription that
would fit the spectacles, the one card
that would reveal to whom they had been sold. When it turned up at last it bore the name of Nathan Leopold,
Jr.

Almost apologetically he was taken into custody, and because Young Loeb, his chum, was with him, he too was taken along for questioning.

Leopold did most of the talking. He admitted the glasses were his—lost,
he thought, during one of many bird-studying expeditions into the woods
in the vicinity of where the Franks boy had been found. He admitted
a study of sex perversion and sex perversion had seemed to enter into the kidnaping and murder of young Franks. He talked freely and when prosecutors' detectives and newspaper men fell out of questions

Five Die In Memorial Day Accidents By Rail And Auto In Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, May 31 (INS).—Five
persons lost their lives in Memorial Day accidents in Eastern Pennsylvania, according to reports today.

Charles Rodeg and William P. Wilson, riding on the tender of a Pennsylvania locomotive here, lost their lives when the engine left the tracks
and crashed into a factory building.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fry, of Emmus, were killed when their automobile was struck by a Philadelphia
& Reading express near Macungie.

Claude Humes, of Erie, was burned
to death under his truck when a passenger train struck it at the Cambridge Springs crossing.

But all the way through he denied
that he or Loeb knew anything about
the revolting crime about which they were being questioned. He didn't know Robert Franks, he said, ditto
the boy was friendly with Loeb, Leo-
pold's chum, and often played tennis
upon Loeb's courts. After questioning Sven England, Leopold's chauff-
eur, the authorities returned to grill-
ing the two young suspects. Loeb,
they guessed shrewdly, was the weaker willed of the two. They concentrated upon him, plied him with questions, gave him no peace until he cried
out desperately that he wanted to talk
to State's Attorney Crowe.

Crowe rushed down to his office
from home. He took young Loeb into an inner room. An hour later the prosecutor emerged. There was a smile
on his face.

"This murder mystery is solved," he announced. "The men who did it are in the custody of my office. There are only two who are held—Leopold and Loeb. They are the murderers. The motive was ransom."

Then he issued a formal statement:
"Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold
have given a complete and voluntary confession to the murder of Robert Franks."

Informally he added to that statement. The thing was planned many months ago, out of a spirit of adventure. Young Franks was not the originally intended victim. He just happened along at the time that the trap
was set to carry off any likely victim.
He was killed by being strangled with
the blunt end of a chisel, wrapped in tape. Then he was strangled, carrying out the idea of killing him, hiding
the body and collecting ransom demanded of his father in a letter.

The boys had brought ether and hydrochloric acid, the latter to destroy
their victim's features and delay if
not prevent identification. For some reason it was not used.

Loeb was on the verge of hysterics
as he made his confession. Leopold,
told that the game was up, coolly and
calmly added his story of the atrocious affair. The car in which the youths lay in wait for a victim was
one rented from an agency. Through all the hunt for it, it had stood in the garage, its grim part in the crime un-
suspected. It was seized by the police and today will be used as part of the setting while the two young murderers reenact the crime.

Leopold wrote the ransom letter to
the boy's father. The portable machine upon which it was typed off was found in his home. He had admitted
owning such a machine, admitted that
he very easily could have written the
letter but said he was too good a speller to have made the error of spelling kidnaping with two 'p's." He made his denial stick, too, until the fateful moment when his father's
chauffeur ruined his alibi.

At the request of the authorities he
sat down and printed the words which
had been on the envelope which carried the ransom. He readily admitted a striking similarity in the formation of some of the letters, but said
he knew nothing of the kidnaping,
murder and demand for ransom.

Today he calmly confessed that he
had lettered the envelope and seemed amused that he had deceived anyone
with his earlier denials.

A delay of a few more days, he said,
might have permitted him and Loeb
to escape. He had made reservations
to sail from New York, June 11, for Europe to spend several months. Even

Osceola and DuBois Take Lead In C. & C. League In The Opening Clashes

The Clearfield and Centre baseball
season opened yesterday. DuBois
and Clearfield met at DuBois and Osceola and Philipsburg came to grips
at Scott Field.

The Big City boys were too heavy
for our own and came out on the big
end of a 5 to 3 score.

Osceola won the opener from Phil-
ipsburg, the final score being 7 to 3.
The Philipsburg team will open at Clearfield next Thursday afternoon
and the local management hope to make this opener the occasion for a
real boost for the team and would like
to have every fan out to the game.
The locals have a strong team
and will give a good account of themselves before the season ends.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ARNOLD GETTING ALONG NICELY

The Arnold family has been advised that Mr. Arnold has been moved to the convalescent ward of the Mayo
Brothers Hospital and is on the road
to rapid recovery. He expects to be able to start home about a week from today.

HEALTH CONDITIONS ARE GOOD

Two cases of scarlet fever was the
sum total of communicable diseases
reported to the Board of Health during the week ending this morning, according to the weekly report of Secretary Gaultin of the Health Board.
During the week the quarantine was
lifted in four cases of scarlet fever,
and there are now but four cases of
contagion under quarantine in the town. All are scarlet fever.

There is one case in the First Ward,
one in the Second, none in the Third,
and two in the Fourth Ward.

George Corrigan, a former Clear-
field boy, who now resides in Phil-
ipsburg, was an interested spectator at
the track meet yesterday. He is manager of the Philipsburg track team.

Washington, May 31 (INS).— Marion Leroy Burton, President of the University of Michigan, will place President Coolidge in nomination at the Cleveland convention, it was announced here today by William M.
Butler, the president's campaign
manager.

Paris, May 31.—"Dapper Dan" Collins, internationally known crook
known to French police as Arthur
Tourbillon, in custody of New York
City detectives, sailed today from Havre for New York, where he is
wanted on several charges.

Miss Katherine Horey had a complete surprise last Wednesday evening when a large number of her friends stepped into her house on Cherry street to spend a pleasant evening. Miss Horey received many remembrances of pretty china and cut
glass and at a late hour refreshments
were served to which the happy crowd
did ample justice. The entire party enjoyed themselves and thought it an evening well spent.

U. S. Flyers Will Attempt Biggest Hop On Journey Around Globe Tomorrow

Tokio, May 31 (INS).—The three
American round the world flyers,
who have been conditioning their
planes at Kasumigaura aerodrome for
the past week, will hop off tomorrow
on the longest leg of their flight so
far.

Taking the air at 3 p. m. the flyers
expect to reach Kagoshima—a distance of 1100 miles—by six o'clock
Sunday evening. They plan but one stop on this jump. It will be made
at Kushimoto for refueling and
lunch.

From Kagoshima the flyers expect to hop off the first of the week
for China.

MEGARGEL AND HIS BUDDIES THE CLASS OF BIG FIELD DAY

The Clearfield High School track
and field meet at the Driving Park
yesterday afternoon was the most successful affair ever held here. Sixteen or 18 different high schools were represented by a bunch of nearly two hundred sturdy young athletes. Real
sportsmanship was displayed by each
and every participant and not a single
unpleasant occurrence was noted
during the afternoon's program.

The Progress two-mile marathon,
the most spectacular feature of the
meet, attracted more than a dozen enthusiasts. The course was from the Park
to "The Point" at the junction of Front and South Second street and return to the Park. This event, together with the gold watch given by
the Progress and the beautiful silver
cup for the two-mile winner, was carried off by Megargel, of Bellefonte,
who nosed out Provinski, of Brockwayville by an eye-lash.

The runners were pretty well bunched
when they reached the turning point. When the start for home was made Provinski took the lead, which he maintained until the William street
crossing was reached, when Edmiston
challenged him and the two lads ran
"neck and neck" until within ten
yards of the tape, Megargel forged to
the front and managed to cross the
finish line but a few inches ahead of the sturdy Provinski.

Gibbons, of Clearfield, was fourth,
while Dick McClure, who was touted
to win by the followers of the local
team, could do no better than ninth.

The lads from the "home of governors" were the class of the meet. The Bellefonte High boys with a band of 16 cinder artists showed the way to the high score with 33½ points, while their closest rival was Clearfield with 27 points. Bellefonte's squad garnered all their points, with one exception,
in the running events, breasting the
tape first in four events, while Jim Bowers landed the high jump for a win at 5 feet 3 inches. Shope of Bellefonte took both the 100-yard and fur-

The Division Chairman of the Y.
M. C. A. Building Fund, 1924 Budget
and Community Service Campaign,
met Wednesday night in the Y Club
meeting room with their Captains and
made plans for the further pushing of the organization that will
"put it over" during the week of June

The Division Chairman with their
Captains are as follows:
Div. A.—Dr. J. Paul Franks, Major,
with the following Captains: V. G.
Friedman, Ralph Jordan, W. K. Mc-Murray, Cecil Bloom, Paul T. Philip.

Div. B.—Philip B. Reed, Major,
with the following Captains:—Jen.
Mitchell, Jr., S. T. McClure, John
Fulford, W. Wallace Smith, Harry E.
Mann.

Div. C.—W. H. Wilson, Major, with
A. G. Bartholomew, H. B. Powell, Jr.,
Harry R. Evans, A. M. Preece and
John Buchanan as Captains.

"Do it and do it right" was the
spirit that dominated last night's
meeting and these captains are now
busy securing their team workers
and hope to have the organization
complete by Saturday night.

Detailed plans as to the pushing
of the campaign together with the
plans that are being made in order
that the public may be fully informed as to the objective and three fold
purpose of the campaign, was captained in full by Mr. Sam I. Ward
the "General" of the Campaign. This meeting was one of the encouraging
meetings that has been held and like the others was characterized by a strong determination to succeed and
no foolish optimism is mixed with it.
These men fully realize they have a big job and that it is a big undertaking but that it must be done and now is the time to do it, confident
that the people of Clearfield will "do
it for Clearfield" in a real substantial way.

RED CROSS NEEDS FUNDS TO CORRECT PHYSICAL DEFECTS OF LOCAL KIDNERS

Of all the many handicaps handicapped in life, perhaps none is as disastrous as ill health or a diseased body.
Little children who, thru no fault of their own, come up to school are with imperfect vision, decayed teeth, or
diseased tonsils, and unable to pay
the price to have these defects corrected are indeed to be pitied. Little Johnny,
with defective sight, sits for many
hours in school each day, straining
close to his book or work. Round-shouldered shoulders, flat chest, lungs
cramped for space and improperly developed. Later perhaps, tuberculosis
develops. How useless to try to correct his physical condition without first giving attention to his eyes! How important for Johnny to have glasses!

Care of the teeth is just as important to the general health of a child
as care of the eyes. If Mary Ann's
loosening molars are pulled instead of
filled, ten to one she will have crook-
ed, irregular teeth and a disfiguring
mouth when she is grown. Decayed teeth, uncare for, produce an unpleasant condition of the mouth which
will bring on all sorts of disease. If Mary Ann can't afford to have her
teeth treated and filled.

Cases like these are constantly bringing to the notice of our Red Cross
nurses, and with a Fund for Childhood, the Red Cross will take care of the most needy. Won't you, then,
think of these Johnnies and Mary Anns as they belong to you, help
them as you would your own?
If so, plan to see "The Man"

NEBRASKA'S PRIZE BEAUTY GIVES LIST OF PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS BY WHICH SHE HOPES TO FIND IDEAL MATE

NEW YORK, May 27.—Pick your husband by psychology!

Apply big business methods to the business of marriage!

A job's a job at home or in an office.
And only the best applicant should
fill it.

That's the theory of Miss Alyce Mc-Cormick, 23-year-old prize beauty of Nebraska, and daughter of a colonel
of the Volunteers of America. And she has come to New York to put it
into practice.

Long lines of applicants pass before
her daily—both at the Mason's Fashion and Home Exposition, where she
is the center of attraction, and at her Greenwich Village hotel where she has the bell-hops gasping. But so far
none has passed the test.

Fourteen men have tried to make
her change the method of selection by making alluring offers of marriage.

"But I will not have any of them,"
says the determined miss. "I have
seen too many marriages go on the
rocks because of unsound arrangements."

"And I am going to take no

So she goes on patiently awaiting
the applicant who can stand the tests.
There is a long list of these.

First, of course, is Miss McCormick's reaction. If the appearance of the man strikes her, she puts him to
the first test.

She smiles and her psychologists
watch.

bright a glimmer comes into his eye, or too dull a look, he is passed up. But

If just the proper shade of pleasant-
ness, he is allowed to go on.

Then comes the test—

For IMPRESSION—light chatter
about things in general, and Miss Mc-Cormick's ideas in particular, bring
about an expression of incredulity, or concurrence. By this the psychologists
make their second judgment.

"It's easy to tell whether a man's
fibbing or sincere," says Miss McCormick in an aside. "And I find that
most of them are fibbers."

If perchance the applicant gets this
far, he is subjected to more detailed
tests—conducted privately.

His PATIENCE is tested by long
waiting for the next experiment.

solving a puzzle in a certain length of
time.

gether blocks in a certain design.

changes from one problem to another,
employing different facilities.

His NEATNESS—by arranging figures and objects in certain combinations within a requisite time.

to disturbing factors during certain
of these experiments.

remembrance tests, arithmetic problems and word analogies.

"And if he is still in the running,"
says Miss McCormick, "we have other tests."

These gauge:

His REACTION TO CHILDREN—
by having some of them run into the
room when not expected, and posturing the applicant with innumerable an-noyances.

His REACTION TO OLD PEOPLE—
by introducing a Civil War veteran
who insists on telling his story, or an
old grandmother who likes to reminis-
ce.

ting his invitation to a theatre, or
some other affair.

"If he asks 'Would you like to go
to see So-and-so,' he falls in this test.
But if he says with force 'We are going to see this play tonight,' he passes."

"And if prohibition weren't in effect I would have another test—that
of getting the man slightly drunk,
so as to watch the reactions of his
sub-conscious mind, stripped of the
inhibitions which are self-imposed."

No one has been able to pass these
tests yet.

"But I'm still hopeful," closes Miss McCormick. "Though it is beginning
to look that big business methods
perhaps are not easily applicable to
the business of marriage."

Y-BOWLS BOWLING

The last three matches were full of surprises for the six contesting teams of the Y-Bowling League held at the local Y. M. C. A. The Amici boys succeeded in taking two out of three games from the County National bowlers with just nine pins to spare. The Auto Dealers were also the victors in the Rotary bowling match, while the three teams were exceedingly close, the Auto boys being in the lead until the last man bowled. W. H. Wilson made a double and the Dealers Captain made him missing a single pin, letting the Rotarians win by six pins in the last game and thirteen in the grand total. The men had each good sport and friendly rivalry, they are going at it again on June 12, using Duck Pins, which will give an even chance for all.

To the Mechanics belong the honors of taking the first game from the Red Men, which they did by 34 pins in the first of the match. Red Men came back strong however, taking the last two, and being in the lead with an advantage of 56 in the grand total.

As a holiday attraction the Electric Supply and Red Men boys come together for their match of the season. County National and Mechanics bowled next Monday night in their postponed game. No tournament tonight and the ladies of Clearfield are welcome to have a "try" at Duck Pins. The scores:

BRINGING UP FATHER

MILK

--A CONSTRUCTIVE FOOD
--A CORRECTIVE FOOD
--A PREVENTATIVE FOOD

The average person ordinarily associates milk with the food of infants. But as the medical fraternity makes deeper and deeper investigations into the food value and the corrective action of milk, they are advising the use of more and more milk.

Milk is the main article of diet in institutions where the fight on the great white plague is being carried on in a scientific way; milk is found to be the main article in the diets of persons who are being treated for neurasthenia; milk is coming into its own, due to the investigations of its food value and its corrective properties.

If milk is used as a constructive food, if milk is used as a corrective food, isn't it logical that it can be used as a preventative food? If milk will correct the run-down condition that invites disease, milk will also build up bodily resistance to the point where the encroaching disease germ will be thrown off.

OUR ANTI-THIRST AND THINGS

Things aren't safe for Democrats in this grand and glorious country of ours after all. As Williameth: A local party of motor cars made famous the present publicity given to the local thirteenth-century emigration yesterday afternoon, leaving his faithful "Henry" at the curb.

Can you imagine his surprise when he was again about to take up the white man's burden and enter upon the arduous duties devolving upon the selling of the aforesaid popular automobiles, to find that someone (be it masculine or feminine) had left several bundles in his frumpy "Hank," and the first thing the salesman encountered was a crock. He immediately began to have visions of getting something more than the thirteenth-century purveyed. He investigated further. A— we just can't say it, but a male colleague wouldn't have any use for them. Then another try—a baby's rattle and some other things not useable by a masculine breaker of Andy Volstead's command.

Anyhow—to make a long story shorter, the salesman took the plunder into the office of the Liberty Theatre and if the person or persons who found their shopping efforts missing when they came to start home will call at the Liberty, they may have their merchandise.

Prohibition enforcement has cost the United States $12,947,533 since 1920, it is announced at the Treasury. Government expenses of 1923 were $8,155,000, compared to $2,052,000 in 1920, according to the statement. The total production of distilled spirits in 1923 was 124,825 gallons, the heaviest since 1918.

A Babylonian account of the life of Noah giving his total age as 64,800, making the 900 years of Methuselah pale into insignificance, forms the basis of a theory of Dr. Howard Chiera, professor of Assyriology at the University of Pennsylvania, designed to account for extreme longevity of these characters in early history.

In a paper submitted to the Crozer Theological Seminary, Dr. Chiera tells of the recent discovery of a four-sided prism in the Sumerian language giving a list of the Kings who ruled in Babylonia from the creation to the time of Hammurapi. The prism gives the names of eight Kings who ruled in the 241,206 years preceding the flood.

Dr. Chiera's explanation of Noah's longevity is that the Babylonians and Egyptians were without historical records to fill in huge gaps in their history, so they resorted to stretching the lives of their early Kings or Patriarchs by as many thousands of years as necessary.

ANOTHER UNDESIRABLE ALIEN

Lately there has been a general defense, on the part of American bird-lovers and scientists, of birds usually regarded as objectionable. Here is something different.

The starling, a European bird, has invaded the United States. Or rather, it has been brought here by some misguided American, who probably liked the name and had no idea of the bird's behavior.

If the starling is tolerable on the other side of the Atlantic, it is not so here. It multiplies rapidly, moves in large flocks, makes an outrageous clatter and delights in devouring young, green crops. New England now finds this bird a pest. It is moving westward, under the urging of increasing numbers, and may overrun the whole country. It is another such pest as that fellow-alien, the English sparrow, though worse in its depredations.

It is a good example of the care that must be exercised in transferring any kind of wild life from one continent to another. The introduction of rabbits in Australia is perhaps the most famous case. One careless act of this kind may upset the fine balance of nature to an incredible extent and work havoc with human adjustments.

MUSICAL PROGRESS

Paderewski should be a good judge of the musical status of any nation. In an interview in Paris, since he left America, he speaks of musical progress in this country in a way that should please every good American.

"I have had long experience of America," he says, "and when I contrast my first experiences with my more recent, I am struck with the quickness with which musical education has spread throughout the United States. Where there were hundreds 20 years ago who would go to listen to classical music, there are now many thousands, men and women, who both understand and appreciate."

This testimony is the more assuring because Paderewski is not obliged, in Paris, to say fine things about America. Any observing person is likely to corroborate his views. The advance in musical education and enjoyment in this country in the last 20 years is amazing, and it is more rapid today than ever before.

CLEAN BUILDINGS

People bathe nowadays pretty generally, at least in this country. Houses likewise keep a pretty clean outside, especially the frame houses whose preservation calls for periodical coats of fresh paint. But buildings of brick and stone, in a busy town, become dirty and stay dirty on the outside, however immaculate the interior may be.

Smoke, soot and dust do their inevitable work. In any city largely given to industry or built around railroad tracks, office buildings, hotels, churches, etc., soon become filthy to the eye. And nearly everyone seems to take it as a matter of course.

Why not scrub the dirt off? A newspaper in one such city has started demanding "baths for buildings". Soap and water, or sand and water, applied once in a year or two, will accomplish wonders, making old buildings stand out as if new and revealing unsuspected beauties in structures long obscured by accumulated dirt. It is a fine way to freshen up a city business section.

Progress Editorials for Women

By FLORENCE DAVIES

All hail the newest fashion arena—the Big Political Convention! Very soon now, women by the thousands, who never voted before, stimulated by the excitement of the great national party meetings on a presidential year, will be pouring into New York and Cleveland, where the stage will be set respectively for the Democratic and Republican conclaves.

And the western writers predict that they will be dressed—these beginners in the political world—in the most comfortable and also the most becoming garments that women ever donned. Remember how the funny paragraphs pictured women, a few years ago, always stopping to ask themselves "What shall I wear?" before going to the polls to drop in a little box the ballot for which the suffragists had worked so tirelessly?

Nobody hints at anything of the sort now, for it has become as much a matter of course to see women in voting booths as in market houses and department stores. Certainly Mrs. Jones puts on the same hat and coat and carries the same handbag, when she starts out on a voting errand, as when she goes to buy new asparagus and chops, or knickers and rompers for Sam and Susie.

But on the way she may stop to see some of the delightful new things in the windows, and why shouldn't one look well and be comfortable at the same time, wherever possible? There is no doubt about it, American women are paying more attention to good looks than they once did. And when the big halls fill in New York and in Cleveland, women who have come to help make the conventions a success—and incidentally to have a wonderful time learning the new game of politics—are going to add to the beauty of the occasion.

It is safe to say that nobody would have predicted in advance that standing up to one's political responsibilities would work reform in clothes. It's been coming gradually—the perfectly groomed business woman has had much to do with it—and if one wants to realize how far the matter has progressed, let him picture a delegate in the nine-yards around, dragging skirt, of two or three decades ago, huge sleeves deforming their arms, hat perched atop of uncomfortably skewed, matted masses of hair, waist belted tightly over stiff, high stays.

If the glasses had been traced to him, he felt confident that no one would so seriously have suspected him as to try to bring him back for questioning. The clothing of their victim, he revealed, was burned in the basement of the Loeb home.

The fathers of the two youths, dumbfounded when they were aroused from their beds early today to be told of the confessions, refused to credit them. Leopold's millionaire father has been an invalid for years. Loeb's father, one of the most prominent business men of Chicago, has been ill since his son's arrest.

As the story of the crime unfolded its perpetration and the motive became more and more perplexing to the police. It was learned that the two youths formed and typed the letters before they even knew the identity of their intended victim. It was stamped and sealed in its envelope and addressed after Robert Franks had been slain. The name of Jacob Franks was scribbled on the envelope as Loeb and Leopold were returning.

It was learned that careful plans had been laid nine months to cover every possible step that might be taken. The boys even went so far as to register at separate hotels under assumed names and to impress on hotel employees that they were living in the establishments. Bank deposits in these names were opened in downtown state banks, it was said by police.

The boy was plain, according to police, five minutes after he had been enticed into the rented automobile. He began to fight. He was struck over the head again and again with the taped club, and then ether was applied.

Police declared after considerable questioning of the two youths and checking one statement against another, Leopold probably struck the blow which resulted in the boy's death. Loeb drove the rented automobile to the Loeb home, Leopold driving his father's car, which was placed in the garage.

Loeb, it was learned, is the youngest student ever to graduate from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of arts degree. He was 18 when he received his diploma a year ago. Leopold was to have taken an examination today at the University of Chicago for entrance to the Harvard law school.

He complained yesterday that he feared he would be unable to take the examination and wondered if police would permit him to take it in his cell.

Richard Loeb, one of the confessed slayers, collapsed today in a restaurant where detectives had taken him and Leopold for lunch. The detectives and the two youths had gone to the garage where the maroon colored death car was said to have been rented and later went to the restaurant. Young Loeb suddenly slumped to the floor unconscious. Efforts to revive him prove futile and officers drove him away in an automobile while Leopold looked on in wide-eyed astonishment.

The disappearance of the portable Underwood typewriter on which the extortion note was written to Jacob Franks was explained today when the two youths said it had been thrown into the Jackson Park lake from an automobile which they had hired. Police were ordered to drag the lake.

Loeb and Leopold are each 19 years of age.

I was coming home from a dance, and I didn't want my escort whom I had just met that evening, to know where I resided. We were walking down the street and I saw a pretty house. I stopped in front of this house and told my escort that I lived there and was obliged for his attention and kindness in taking me home. A look of bewilderment broke out on his face as he said, "Holy smokes, how do you live there when I live there?"—Exchange.

In the Courts

May term of criminal court ended Thursday afternoon with the completion of the Leonard Caramella case.

The following cases were disposed of during the week, in addition to those previously reported: Alex Popoff, of Stronach, who failed to pop off the road into the brush before Sheriff Lowell happened to meet him carrying a quart of white rum in a shoe box, in addition to an over-generous supply under his belt, was fined $100 and costs for illegally possessing liquor.

M. Christoff, of Osceola, got a similar sentence because state cops found a half pint in a coat hanging on the wall in his store when they entered.

John Plevak was sentenced to pay $200 fine and costs and serve 30 days in jail for violating the liquor law.

William Oswald got a $200 fine and 60 days in jail for a similar offense.

Joe Daggaro, scheduled for trial on a liquor law violating charge, had his case marked off the docket when the court was informed Daggaro had been called to plead at a higher court, he having led since being indicted.

William Kutules, alias William Mathews, rew down a $200 fine and costs for illegal possession of liquor.

Quinnie Flick, of DuBois, whose case had been scheduled for trial at several courts but was continued because the prosecutrix failed to appear, was released from further worry when the case was finally stricken from the trial list.

A. L. Edwards, Esq., Harry Reese and J. S. Michaels were appointed to view and report on the advisability of vacating a public road from a point on the Bigler and Airport road near the farm of O. L. Williams, thence to a point on the road leading from Bigler to Fairview.

William Liggett, of Hawk Run, was fined $150 and costs for illegally possessing several quarts of liquor.

Judges Announced For Legion Essay Contest On Patriotic Subject

County Superintendent T. O. He has appointed Prof. Grant N. Nunn, Supervisor of the Carverville Schools, Prof. Wm. Samson, Superintendent of the DuBois Schools, and Prof. Clair Ross, Principal of the Clearfield Junior High School to act as county judges for the American Legion National Essay Contest, title "Why Communism is a Menace to Americanism". Prof. Nunn will serve as chairman of the committee.

The essays must be in the hands of County Superintendent Trostle, Clearfield Pa., no later than midnight of June 15th. The contest has aroused great interest and essays are being received from all parts of the county.

The County Committee of the American Legion will provide medals and awards for the three county winners, which includes Phillipburg. The best of the three essays will be sent to Harrisburg for further consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Chatman have gone to Newport where they expect to visit a sister returning to their home in Jersey City.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL FURTHER PLANS FOR SUMMER TERM

A very interesting meeting of the Daily Vacation Bible School was held at the Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening, May 27th. The committee on curriculum outlined their plan for the course of study and the Teachers Committee reported that teachers were being secured. It was reported that the High School Building could not be obtained for use this year due to repair work being done there. It was decided to have the school meet in the three central churches, the Presbyterian, Baptist and Lutheran, a group of scholars being assigned to each church. Each week there will be a general assembly for devotional services.

The services of Mr. Clair Ross, Principal of Junior High, to act as principal and registrar of the Vacation Bible School, were very fortunately secured. Everything is being put into shape and a large attendance and much interest is expected.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN IS CALLED

David Price, veteran of the Civil war and native of Earhart township, Clearfield county, died at his home in Bellefonte on May 22d, after a lingering illness due to cancer, in his 87th year.

The deceased resided at Earhart for many years and was one of the leading citizens of the lower end of the county. He came to Clearfield about 20 years ago and resided here for a number of years before making his home in Bellefonte, where he had lived for the past five or six years.

David Price was a veteran of the Civil war with an enviable war record. He fought at Bull Run, Gettysburg and in many other battles and was an inmate of the notorious Andersonville prison for some time when a part of his outfit was captured by the confederates.

He is survived by his widow, four daughters and two sons. One sister, Mrs. James Starn, of Clearfield, also survives.

The funeral occurred on Saturday, May 24. Interment was made at Keele cemetery.

"Nemeses"

Nemeses was a goddess of justice and divine retribution. The word comes from a Greek verb meaning to deal out, distribute, dispense. In Greek mythology Nemeses was a goddess personifying allotment, or the divine distribution to every man of his precise share of fortune, good and bad. It was for special function to see that the proper proportion of individual prosperity was preserved, and that anyone who became too prosperous or was too much uplifted by his prosperity should be reduced or punished.

BOTH CANDIDATES CAUTION IN THEIR SELECTION OF MEN FOR SECOND PLACE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Washington, May 21.—With a score of vice presidential booms under way, the political master minds of both major parties were engaged today in the difficult problem of selecting "running mates" to the standard bearers of next November.

For the first time in decades, much caution was exercised in casting about for second place nominees.

In the Democratic ranks two groups of vice presidential candidates were being groomed. One, from the west, was favored if the Democratic nominee for President comes from the east and the other from Atlantic seaboard states, was under consideration by party leaders in event a weaker head the November ticket.

The Western Democratic group included Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, who directed the Daugherty investigation, Governor William E. Sweet, of Colorado and Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska. In the Eastern group were Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, and Governor George Silver, of New Jersey.

A dozen other Democratic booms were in motion but party leaders were said to favor these two groups over all others. The ultimate selection, however, will not be made until the New York convention has spoken its verdict on the Democratic standard-bearer.

The Republican situation was different. The running mate for President Coolidge will be chosen before the Cleveland convention convenes. For this reason, Lowden was reported to have the "inside track" as President Coolidge's first personal choice.

His administrative record as Governor of Illinois, his geographical position and his popularity among farmers because of his connection with the largest co-operative marketing association in the west were the principal assets of his boom.

Republican spokesmen were not certain Lowden would accept the post because of his retirement from politics four years ago. If he does not, it is said Secretary Hoover would be asked to run.

It was contended that Hoover's popularity among housewives, his progressive views and following among farmers would make him an ideal running mate for the President.

Governor Hyde was being boosted independently by Western Administration leaders. They urged Hyde because of his gubernatorial record his pulling power in the doubtful state of Missouri and his career as a real dirt farmer.

Although reports were current the president would select his running mate from these three men, a half dozen other names were boomed for the post. They included Senators Borah of Idaho, Watson, of Indiana, and Capper of Kansas; Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana; Charles G. Dawes of Chicago and Major General James G. Harbord, former Chief of State of the A. E. F.

The extreme caution exercised by both parties in selecting the second place candidates was prompted by a general feeling that LaFollette might throw the November election to the House of Representatives.

INJURED RETURNING FROM FUNERAL

Mr. Clara McLaughlin, of Clarion, is confined to the home of her nephew James McLaughlin on Park street, as the result of injuries received in an automobile wreck which occurred between Clearfield and Curwensville on Thursday afternoon last.

Mrs. McLaughlin was one of a party of relatives who had been in Clearfield attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Alice McLaughlin. They were on their way home to Clarion when their car was wrecked. Mrs. McLaughlin was thrown from the car and badly bruised and shaken up. Mrs. Della Greybill received a badly sprained ankle, while Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ransom, the other members of the party both suffered numerous cuts and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Short and Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Gardner attended the funeral of Editor Charles R. Kutz, of the Centre Democrat at Bellefonte last afternoon.

FUNERAL HELD FROM TRAIN

The remains of Emerson Fullington, son of the late Charles Fullington, who died at his home in Fremont, Nebraska, will arrive in Clearfield on the Pennsylvania train due here at 10:45 on Sunday morning.

The funeral will be held from the train. Interment will be made at Hillcrest cemetery and local friends of the deceased will be given opportunity to view the remains at the cemetery before interment is made.

The deceased was 40 years of age.

Tom Sims Says

The average crop of a decent man is 100 bushels. The crop of a general question varied.

End news from Phillipsburg. Most of the war veterans are failures. Perhaps they have to fight too well.

No matter how rough the sea of matrimony you can steer safely by following the chart.

A few people notice you as long as you are good, but when you start out to borrow trouble the interest is very high.

The chief trouble with being a man is shoving things longer than sneaking on a little longer.

A conservative estimate would be that half the fruit jars have been held since at one time in their lives.

Long dashes. Margaret was the winner, with a thirty second, while the Bellefonte relay team stopped that event in one-eight winning with considerable distance between them and Juniata, who finished second.

Bellefonte's rewards were of the first set, they carrying away three beautiful cups, two gold watches and about one-fourth of the metals.

The Charles T. Kuriz loving cup was won by the Bellefonte team for high scoring. The R. William Thompson cup was plundered of the same

School Children's Coloring Contest--224 Prizes

$170 in Cash 160 Theatre Tickets---10 Each Week

IT IS EASY TO WIN--THERE ARE 14 PRIZES EACH WEEK

Little Artists, here is a page that will interest you. It offers an opportunity to show your ability and to use your artistic "knack" to win prizes. It's lots of fun, and there is money in it besides.

Prizes will be awarded each week to those who reproduce the colors of all the original labels, packages, trade-marks or designs on this page most carefully, faithfully and neatly. The designs which are black and white reproductions of original labels, packages, trade-marks and designs, are to be colored in the most artistic manner and judging will be done on this basis, together with the neatness of the work. The coloring may be done either in water colors or crayons. This contest is open to school children everywhere. PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED EACH WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

FIRST PRIZE, $5.00; SECOND PRIZE, $3.00; THIRD PRIZE, $1.00; FOURTH PRIZE, $1.00.

The next ten in order of merit will receive a ticket to the Liberty theatre for Saturday afternoon. This contest will run for 16 weeks. At the close an additional prize of $10.00 will be awarded the child turning in the best page during this period.

IMPORTANT! All designs on this page must be colored and the entire page sent in. Where original labels and trade marks appear, prizes will be awarded for the efforts that are nearest like the originals.

All the merchandise bearing labels and trade-marks appearing on this page can be purchased in the stores you patronize. They are all high-class products in daily use in all families. You are familiar with most of them; if there are any you cannot color from memory, procure one of the packages and enter the contest. After you have colored the entire page, mail it to the "School Children's Contest," Clearfield Progress. All efforts must be in the Progress office on or before 6 p. m. the first Tuesday after the page is published. The week's prize winners will be announced the following Friday.

ASK YOUR PARENTS AND OLDER BROTHERS AND SISTERS TO HELP YOU. START TODAY. You can have a jolly good time at it, improve your drawing ability and surely win one of the 224 prizes to be given for the work.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. F. B. Fitchwater, D.D., Teacher of Sunday School in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union)

Lesson for June 1 THE BABYLONIAN EXILE OF JUDAH

LESSON TEXT—II Chron. 36:11-21.
SUNDAY TEXT—"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."—Prov. 14:34.
PRIMARY TOPIC—What a Boy King Did.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Destruction of Jerusalem.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Nation in Ruins.

I. The Sins of the Nation (vv. 11-16).

(1) Zedekiah, the King (vv. 11-13).
(2) Insubordination to God's prophet (v. 12). In the theocratic government of Israel God's prophet occupied a higher place than the king himself. The prophet was God's messenger. Instead of receiving Jeremiah as God's messenger and conforming his life to God's will as made known by the prophet he refused to humble himself before God.

(3) Rebellion against Nebuchadnezzar (vv. 14-16). Zedekiah was made king of Judah by the king of Babylon but he did not acknowledge him as his sovereign. He rebelled against him by Jerusalem (vv. 17, 18, 20-23). He rebelled against the king of Babylon by his refusal to surrender (v. 19). He rebelled against God by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel (v. 12). He rebelled against the Lord by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel (v. 12). He rebelled against the Lord by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel (v. 12).

(4) The king followed the heathen (v. 18). The king followed the heathen in the worship of idols and in the practice of the customs of the heathen nations surrounding them.
(5) The king polluted the house of the Lord (v. 19). The house of the Lord was polluted by the king's idolatry and by the king's refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel.

(6) The king rejected God's messengers (v. 20). The king rejected God's messengers by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.
(7) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.

(9) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.

(11) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.

(14) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.

(17) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.

(19) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's counsel and by his refusal to surrender to the king of Babylon.

Tyrone Division Keyman Gets Pennsy Hero Medal For His Act Of Heroism

Tyrone, Pa., May 29, 1924 (Tyrone Division Publicity)—John W. Saxton, the well known young Tyrone Division operator at Unionville who so signally distinguished himself a hero at his tower on the 8th of last June, when he snatched a two year old child from death in the face of the fast approaching Lehigh Express at the risk of his own life and limb, was one of the twenty-seven Pennsylvania Railroad employees to be presented with the Company's bronze medal for the performance of extraordinary acts of valor by President Samuel Rea at Broad street Station on Wednesday of this week.

The medal, which is of bronze, is 2 1/2 inches in diameter. On the face of it there is a reproduction of the largest type passenger engine now in service. Under this are the words, "All honor attend you in your valor!" On the reverse side there is a large keystone encircled by a laurel wreath. The keystone contains a facsimile of the official seal of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, above which has been inscribed the name of the employee to whom the medal is awarded, as well as the date on which the heroic service was performed.

The facts of Saxton's heroic act bear repetition at this time: He heard Lehigh whistle for the crossing at Unionville station, and at the same time saw little Andrew Jackson Robinson, son of John Robinson track foreman at Unionville, waddle up on the track and step. He realized that it was too late to pull the board on the engine, so he rushed from the tower and snatched little John off the track just a fraction of a second before the heavy express thundered by. It was a deed of pure, unadulterated heroism, and Saxton richly deserves the great honor that has been bestowed upon him.

Curwensville's Own Column

The rain fell for the month of May the years 1900 to 1924 inclusive, tabulated by Dr. Miles Wall, who the means of tabulating the her correctly, is as follows: May, rain fell on but three days; dry and dusty; May 1921, rain on thirteen days; May 1922, rain on eight days; May 1923, rain on seven days, including five inches on the 9th; May 1924, rain on twenty days up to and including the 30th. The average number of inches which fell during the month of May in five years, 10. Mr. Wall kept the weather every day many years in succession and we vouch for the correctness of the statement.

Rev. Dr. Adams, of the Methodist Episcopal ch., will preach from the subject "Keeping the Faith." In the evening, Rev. Nathan Smith, of Clearfield, occupy the pulpit. During the morning, Rev. Dr. Adams will go to Clearfield and preach a sermon for the Hannan Commandery, Knight of the Order of the Knights Templar.

James Richards has built a large barn along the premises on Fifth street.

Curwensville kids are all excited over a circus which is billed for Curwensville on Saturday, June 7th. The circus of promises has already been made.

An automobile wreck occurred not far below the old Sunnyside House yesterday. Several of the occupants received cuts and bruises but no broken bones. The machine was damaged considerably.

David Forte, eyes and Dillman Wall returned home from Clearfield Friday evening from a week's courting at Clearfield. It was no new experience for Forte, but for Wall was interesting as it was his first experience.

The Sweet Shop had a fine display of old war relics in the front window yesterday which drew the eyes of the passers by and who stopped to look and examine the forty or fifty varieties to be seen.

Mrs. Samuel McKenrick, who has been rather seriously ill during the fore part of the week is convalescing slowly.

Mrs. Gertrude Powell, one of the efficient clerks at the post office, and who is taking a vacation from her labors, spent the week in Clearfield with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Russell went to Philadelphia Friday in order to be present at a family reunion of the Russell clan. Mr. Russell will return home on Monday but Mrs. Russell will remain in the city until the latter part of the week to meet her daughter, Mrs. Ganoe and children, who will return to Curwensville with her and spend the summer months.

Baptismal services will be held Sunday afternoon in the river at Pec Wee's Nest. Some twenty candidates will be baptised by L. Edwin Rideout pastor of the Baptist church.

Sunday services in the Presbyterian church will consist of morning sermons, entitled "Supposing". In the evening will preach the baccalaureate.

sermon from the subject "Follow the Glean." Miss Irene Sykes will render a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple." The flowers for the day were furnished by Miss Alice Kirk and Mrs. John Pifer.

For the first time in a dozen years, Curwensville had a drum corps in line of parade yesterday and was composed of Dorsey Williams, Clair Williams, snare drums; Jack Williams, bass drums and Barney Ferguson, cymbals. The drum music certainly put the pep into the step of the soldier boys.

A band concert at the bank corner last evening held a crowd of people for an hour at that point.

A number of Curwensville young men went to Clearfield yesterday to the Athletic field meet. Some others went to DuBois to see the first ball game in the mountain league between Clearfield and DuBois.

The contract for the re-building of the Anderson Creek bridge was from town for a number of years.

awarded at County Commissioners' office Friday afternoon to Whitaker & Diehl, Harrisburg, for the lowest bidders at $10,500.00.

Memorial Day exercises passed off as program yesterday. A short exercise was carried out in High School building, after which the pupils of the schools went to the cemetery and placed flowers on the graves. In the afternoon, after a parade the people assembled at the platform in the cemetery, when after prayer and music Rev. Dr. Adams delivered the address.

A young son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mourey at Clearfield hospital Friday, but unfortunately the baby lived only a few hours.

Mrs. Al Murrey was very ill on Thursday night but is slowly recovering.

Jack Williams, a former Curwensville boy but who has been absent from town for a number of years, spent Memorial Day at the home of his nephew, Clair Williams, South street.

John B. Borne and wife, of Clearfield, spent Friday in Curwensville.

Rotan, Texas.—"I am writing to let you know how I have been benefited by taking your medicine. After my second baby was born my back was weak and hurt me continually, so I thought I'd try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had read so much about where it had helped so many women. I had been bothered with my back for over a year, and it would hurt me until I could not do my work, which is keeping house for three and cooking and washing dishes. I tell all my friends if they have any kind of female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. You may use this testimonial if it will help any one."

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Chicago, May 31 (INS).—The
Franks case is solved. Loeb and Leopold are the murderers of 13 year
old Robert Franks and kidnaping to obtain a ransom was behind the
crime.

So declared States Attorney Crowe
early today, after an all night grill-
ing of Nathan Leopold, Jr., star student of the University of Chicago and
Richard Loeb, son of Albert Loeb,
millionaire vice president of Sears,
Roebuck and Company.

Their confessions, Crowe said,

Chicago, May 31 (INS).—Complete
confession that they had kidnaped and killed 13-year-old Robert Franks, son
of a neighbor and friend of one of
them, was made early today by Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb,
both sons of millionaires. The kidnaping was planned last November in a
young Franks just chanced to come
along on the day and at the time and
place they had plotted to abduct some
one. He was killed almost at once,
strangled after being rendered uncon-
scious by a blow on the head with a
chisel, and the letter demanding $100,
000 ransom sent to his father.

The confessions came at the close
of a night of grilling when a chauff-
eur for the Leopold family gave information which completely shattered
the carefully concocted alibi of the
youngsters.

Thus is solved, according to the
prosecutor, a mystery that for ten
days has puzzled and tantalized the
authorities ever since the nude and
horrified body of young Franks, son of Jacob Franks, another millionaire and
friend and neighbor of young Loeb,
part in the south end of the city.

When a thousand and one other
clues had been followed up and dis-
carded, time and again the detectives
returned to these glasses as the one
thing that would solve the case. Every
oculist in the city was enlisted and
that would reveal to whom they had
been sold. When it turned up at last
Jr.

Charles Rodeg and William P. Wil-
son, riding on the tender of a Pennsylvania locomotive here, lost their
lives when the engine left the tracks
and crashed into a factory building.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fry, of Emus, were killed when their automobile was struck by a Philadelphia
& Reading express near Macungie.

Claude Humes, of Erie, was burned
to death under his truck when a passenger train struck it at the Cam-
bridge Springs crossing.

But all the way through he denied
that he or Loeb knew anything about
the revolting crime about which they
were being questioned. He didn't know Robert Franks, he said, ditto
the boy was friendly with Loeb, Leo-
ing Sven England, Leopold's chauff-
eur, the authorities returned to grill-
ing the two young suspects. Loeb,
they guessed shrewdly, was the weak-
er willed of the two. They concentrated upon him, plied him with questions, gave him no peace until he cried
to State's Attorney Crowe.

Crowe rushed down to his office
from home. He took young Loeb into
an inner room. An hour later the pros-
on his face.

"This murder mystery is solved," he
announced. "The men who did it are
in the custody of my office. There are only two who are held—Leopold and
motive was ransom."

Then he issued a formal statement:

"Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold
have given a complete and voluntary
Franks."

Informally he added to that statement. The thing was planned many
months ago, out of a spirit of adventure. Young Franks was not the originally intended victim. He just happened along at the time that the trap
was set to carry off any likely victim.
He was killed by being stunned with
the blunt end of a chisel, wrapped in
tape. Then he was strangled, carry-
the body and collecting ransom de-
manded of his father in a letter.

The boys had brought ether and hy-
drochloric acid, the latter to destroy
reason it was not used.

Loeb was on the verge of hysterics
as he made his confession. Leopold,
told that the game was up, coolly and
calmly added his story of the atroci-
ous affair. The car in which the
youths lay in wait for a victim was
one rented from an agency. Through
all the hunt for it, it had stood in the
suspected. It was seized by the police and today will be used as part of the setting while the two young murderers reenact the crime.

Leopold wrote the ransom letter to
the boy's father. The portable machine upon which it was typed off was
owning such a machine, admitted that
fateful moment when his father's
chauffeur ruined his alibi.

At the request of the authorities he
sat down and printed the words which
had been on the envelope which carried the ransom. He readily admitted a striking similarity in the formation of some of the letters, but said
he knew nothing of the kidnaping,
murder and demand for ransom.

Today he calmly confessed that he
had lettered the envelope and seemed
amused that he had deceived anyone
with his earlier denials.

A delay of a few more days, he said,
might have permitted him and Loeb
to escape. He had made reservations
to sail from New York, June 11, for Europe to spend several months. Even

Osceola and DuBois Take Lead In C. & C. League In The Opening Clashes

The Clearfield and Centre baseball
season opened yesterday. DuBois
and Clearfield met at DuBois and Osceola and Philipsburg came to grips
at Scott Field.

The Big City boys were too heavy
for our own and came out on the big
end of a 5 to 3 score.

Osceola won the opener from Phil-
ipsburg, the final score being 7 to 3.

The Philipsburg team will open at Clearfield next Thursday afternoon
and the local management hope to
real boost for the team and would like
to have every fan out to the game.

and will give a good account of them-

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ARNOLD
GETTING ALONG NICELY

The Arnold family has been advised that Mr. Arnold has been moved
to the convalescent ward of the Mayo
Brothers Hospital and is on the road
to rapid recovery. He expects to be able to start home about a week from
today.

Two cases of scarlet fever was the
sum total of communicable diseases
reported to the Board of Health during the week ending this morning, according to the weekly report of Secretary Gaultin of the Health Board.

During the week the quarantine was
lifted in four cases of scarlet fever,
and there are now but four cases of
contagion under quarantine in the
town. All are scarlet fever.

There is one case in the First Ward,
one in the Second, none in the Third,
and two in the Fourth Ward.

George Corrigan, a former Clear-
field boy, who now resides in Phil-
ipsburg, was an interested spectator at
ager of the Philipsburg track team.

manager.

Paris, May 31.—"Dapper Dan" Collins, internationally known crook
known to French police as Arthur
Tourbillon, in custody of New York
City detectives, sailed today from Havre for New York, where he is
wanted on several charges.

Miss Katherine Horey had a complete surprise last Wednesday evening when a large number of her
friends stepped into her house on Cherry street to spend a pleasant evening. Miss Horey received many re-
glass and at a late hour refreshments
were served to which the happy crowd
did ample justice. The entire party
enjoyed themselves and thought it an
evening well spent.

U. S. Flyers Will Attempt Biggest Hop On Journey Around Globe Tomorrow

Tokio, May 31 (INS).—The three
American round the world flyers,
who have been conditioning their
planes at Kasumigaura aerodrome for
the past week, will hop off tomorrow
on the longest leg of their flight so
far.

Taking the air at 3 p. m. the flyers
expect to reach Kagoshima—a distance of 1100 miles—by six o'clock
Sunday evening. They plan but one
stop on this jump. It will be made
lunch.

From Kagoshima the flyers expect to hop off the first of the week
for China.

MEGARGEL AND HIS BUDDIES THE CLASS OF BIG FIELD DAY

The Clearfield High School track
and field meet at the Driving Park
yesterday afternoon was the most successful affair ever held here. Sixteen or 18 different high schools were
represented by a bunch of nearly two hundred sturdy young athletes. Real
sportsmanship was displayed by each
and every participant and not a single
unpleasant occurrence was noted
during the afternoon's program.

The Progress two-mile marathon,
the most spectacular feature of the
meet, attracted more than a dozen enthusiasts. The course was from the Park
to "The Point" at the junction of Front and South Second street and
return to the Park. This event, together with the gold watch given by
the Progress and the beautiful silver
cup for the two-mile winner, was carried off by Megargel, of Bellefonte,
who nosed out Provinaki, of Brock-
wayville by an eye-lash.

The runners were pretty well bunched
when they reached the turning
point. When the start for home was made Provinaki took the lead, which
he maintained until the William street
crossing was reached, when Edmiston
challenged him and the two lads ran
"neck and neck" until within ten
yards of the tape, Megargel forged to
finish line but a few inches ahead of the sturdy Provinaki.

Gibbons, of Clearfield, was fourth,
while Dick McClure, who was touted
to win by the followers of the local
team, could do no better than ninth.
The lads from the "home of governors" were the class of the meet. The Bellefonte High boys with a band of 16 cinder artists showed the way to the high score with 33 1/2 points, while
their closest rival was Clearfield with 27 points. Bellefonte's squad garner-
ed all their points, with one exception,
in the running events, breasting the
tape first in four events, while Jim
Bowers landed the high jump for a
win at 5 feet 3 inches. Shope of Belle-

The Division Chairman of the Y.
M. C. A. Building Fund, 1924 Budget
and Community Service Campaign,
met Wednesday night in the Y Club
meeting room with their Captains and
made plans for the further push-
ing of the organization that will
"put it over" during the week of June

The Division Chairman with their
Captains are as follows:
Div. A.—Dr. J. Paul Franks, Major,
with the following Captains: V. G.
Friedburg, Ralph Jordan, W. K. Mc-
Murray, Cecil Bloom, Paul T. Ph-
barty.

Div. B.—Philip B. Reed, Major,
with the following Captains:—Jen.
Mitchell, Jr., S. T. McClure, John
Fulford, W. Wallace Smith, Harry E.
Mann.

Div. C.—W. H. Wilson, Major, with
A. G. Bartholomew, H. B. Powell, Jr.,
John Buchanan as Captains.
"Do it and do it right" was the
spirit that dominated last night's
busy securing their team workers
and hope to have the organization
complete by Saturday night.

Detailed plans as to the procedure
of the campaign together with the
that the public may be fully inform-
ed as to the objective and three fold
purpose of the campaign, was explained in full by Mr. Sam I. Ward
the "General" of the Campaign. This meeting was one of the encouraging
meetings that has been held and the others was characterized by a strong determination to succeed and
no foolish optimism is mixed with it.
These men fully realize they have
a big job and that it is a big under-taking but that it must be done and
now is the time to do it, confident
that the people of Clearfield will "do
it for Clearfield" in a real substantial way.

Of all the many handicaps handicapped in life, perhaps none is so distressing as ill health or a diseased body.
Little children who, thru no fault of their own, come up to school age with imperfect vision, decayed teeth, or
diseased tonsils, and unable to pay
the price to have these defects corrected are indeed to be pitied. Little Johnny,
with defective sight, sits for many
close to his book or work. Round-
shouldered shoulders, flat chest, hump-
cramped for space and improperly developed. Later perhaps, tuberculosis
develops. How useless to try to correct his physical condition without
first giving attention to his eyes! How
important for Johnny to have glasses!

tant to the general health of a child
loosening molars are pulled instead of
filled, ten to one she will have crook-
ed, irregular teeth and a disfiguring
mouth when she is grown. Decayed
teeth, uncared for, produce an unpleasant condition of the mouth which
Mary Ann can't afford to have her
teeth treated and filled.

Cases like these are constantly bring-
ing to the notice of our Red Cross
nurses, and with a Fund for Children, the Red Cross will take care of the most needy. Won't you, then,
think of these Johnnies and Mary
Anns as they belong to you, help
them as you would your own?
If so, plan to see "The Man"
June 24 and 25 at the Indiana ater. Thru the courtesy of the man, your Red Cross Nursing Unit

NEBRASKA'S PRIZE BEAUTY GIVES LIST OF PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS BY WHICH SHE HOPES TO FIND IDEAL MATE

NEW YORK, May 27.—Pick your
husband by psychology!
Apply big business methods to the
business of marriage!

And only the best applicant should
fill it.

That's the theory of Miss Alyce Mc-Cormick, 23-year-old prize beauty of Nebraska, and daughter of a colonel
of the Volunteers of America. And
she has come to New York to put it
into practice.

Long lines of applicants pass before
her daily—both at the Mason's Fashion and Home Exposition, where she
is the center of attraction, and at her Greenwich Village hotel where she
has the bell-hops gasping. But so far
none has passed the test.

Fourteen men have tried to make
her change the method of selection by
making alluring offers of marriage.

says the determined miss. "I have
seen too many marriages go on the
rocks because of unsound arrangements."

So she goes on patiently awaiting
the applicant who can stand the tests.
There is a long list of these.

First, of course, is Miss McCor-
mick's reaction. If the appearance of
the man strikes her, she puts him to
the first test.

She smiles and her psychologists
watch:
bright a glimmer comes into his eye, or
too dull a look, he is passed up. But

If just the proper shade of pleasant-
ness, he is allowed to go on.

Then comes the test—
For IMPRESSION—light chatter
about things in general, and Miss Mc-Cormick's ideas in particular, bring
about an expression of incredulity, or
concurrence. By this the psychologists
make their second judgment.

"It's easy to tell whether a man's
fibbing or sincere," says Miss McCormick in an aside. "And I find that
most of them are fibbers."

If perchance the applicant gets this
far, he is subjected to more detailed
tests—conducted privately.

His PATIENCE is tested by long
waiting for the next experiment.
solving a puzzle in a certain length of
time.

His INGENUITY—by piecing together blocks in a certain design.
changes from one problem to another,
employing different facilities.

His NEATNESS—by arranging figures and objects in certain combinations within a requisite time.

His TOLERANCE—by his reaction
to disturbing factors during certain
of these experiments.

remembrance tests, arithmetic problems and word analogies.

"And if he is still in the running,"
says Miss McCormick, "we have other
tests."

These gauge:

His REACTION TO CHILDREN—
by having some of them run into the
room when not expected, and postur-
ing the applicant with innumerable an-
noyances.

His REACTION TO OLD PEOPLE—
by introducing a Civil War veteran
who insists on telling his story, or an
old grandmother who likes to reminis-
ce.

ting his invitation to a theatre, or
some other affair.

"If he asks 'Would you like to go
to see So-and-so,' he falls in this test.
But if he says with force 'We are going to see this play tonight,' he
passes."

"And if prohibition weren't in effect I would have another test—that
of getting the man slightly drunk,
so as to watch the reactions of his
sub-conscious mind, stripped of the
inhibitions which are self-imposed."

No one has been able to pass these
tests yet.

"But I'm still hopeful," closes Miss McCormick. "Though it is beginning
to look that big business methods
perhaps are not easily applicable to
the business of marriage."

Y-BOWLS BOWLING

The last three matches were full of surprises for the six contesting teams of the Y-Bowling League held at the local Y. M. C. A. The Amici boys succeeded in taking two out of three games from the County National bowlers with just nine pins to spare. The Auto Dealers were also the victors in the Rotary bowling match, while the three teams were exceedingly close, the Auto Club being in the lead until the last man bowled. W. H. Wilson made a double and the Dealers Captain made him missing a single pin, letting the Rotarians win by six pins in the last game and thirteen in the grand total. The men had each good sport and friendly rivalry, they are going at it again on June 12, using Duck Pins, which will give an even chance for all.

To the Mechanics belong the honors of taking the first game from the Red Men, which they did by 34 pins in the first of the match. Red Men came back strong however, taking the last two, and being in the lead with an advantage of 56 in the grand total.

As a holiday attraction the Electric Supply and Red Men boys come together for their match of the season. County National and Mechanics bowled next Monday night in their postponed game. No tournament tonight and the ladies of Clearfield are welcome to have a "try" at Duck Pins. The scores:

Look for summer home than Pitching—and others who would like to try this game this year are urged to attend the big meeting on next Monday night at 8 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. club room under the auspices of the Community Service Committee. A good turn out of all the fans will help secure an early start of this popular sport. A committee consisting of Boyd Smith, W. H. Witherow and J. H. Woods will present schedule of contents that will be open to every man in the community.

After some delay of sickness, etc., the checker tournament for men has reached the finals. In recent matches Gordon Henderson and Lawrence Rougeux won out over their opponents, Samuel R. Mitchell and J. T. McClintock. The winners then met in the semi-finals and L. M. Rougeux proved the best of the two. Ed Hile had recently won his match from H. J. THE LITTLE SHOP AROUND
THE CORNER

A Babylonian account of the life of Noah giving his total age as 950,000, making the 900 years of Methuselah pale into insignificance, forms the basis of a theory of Dr. Howard Chiers, professor of Assyriology at the University of Pennsylvania, designed to account for extreme longevity of these characters in early history.

In a paper submitted to the Crozer Theological Seminary, Dr. Chiera tells of the recent discovery of a four-sided prism in the Sumerian language giving a list of the Kings who ruled in Babylonia from the creation to the time of Hammurapi. The prism gives the names of eight Kings who ruled in the 241,200 years preceding the flood.

Dr. Chiera's explanation of Noah's longevity is that the Babylonians and Hebrews were without historical records to fill in huge gaps in their history, so they resorted to stretching the lives of their early Kings or Patriarchs by as many thousands of years as necessary.

The funeral will be held from the Anderson home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. E. C. Reeve officiating.

ANOTHER UNDESIRABLE ALIEN

Lately there has been a general defense, on the part of American bird-lovers and scientists, of birds usually regarded as objectionable. Here is something different.

The starling, a European bird, has invaded the United States. Or rather, it has been brought here by some misguided American, who probably liked the name and had no idea of the bird's behavior.

If the starling is tolerable on the other side of the Atlantic, it is not so here. It multiplies rapidly, moves in large flocks, makes an outrageous clatter and delights in devouring young, green crops. New England now finds this bird a pest. It is moving westward, under the urging of increasing numbers, and may overrun the whole country. It is another such pest as that fellow-alien, the English sparrow, though worse in its depredations.

It is a good example of the care that must be exercised in transferring any kind of wild life from one continent to another. The introduction of rabbits in Australia is perhaps the most famous case. One careless act of this kind may upset the fine balance of nature to an incredible extent and work havoc with human adjustments.

Paderewski should be a good judge of the musical status of any nation. In an interview in Paris, since he left America, he speaks of musical progress in this country in a way that should please every good American.

"I have had long experience of America," he says, "and when I contrast my first experiences with my more recent, I am struck with the quickness with which musical education has spread throughout the United States. Where there were hundreds 20 years ago who would go to listen to classical music, there are now many thousands, men and women, who both understand and appreciate."

It goes farther than mere passing appreciation, says the great pianist. He makes no prophecies of an outburst of musical genius here, but says that "in execution Americans are going very far ahead, and very quickly."

This testimony is the more assuring because Paderewski is not obliged, in Paris, to say fine things about America. Any observing person is likely to corroborate his views. The advance in musical education and enjoyment in this country in the last 20 years is amazing, and it is more rapid today than ever before.

People bathe nowadays pretty generally, at least in this country. Houses likewise keep a pretty clean outside, especially the frame houses whose preservation calls for periodical coats of fresh paint. But buildings of brick and stone, in a busy town, become dirty and stay dirty on the outside, however immaculate the interior may be.

Smoke, soot and dust do their inevitable work. In any city largely given to industry or built around railroad tracks, office buildings, hotels, churches, etc., soon become filthy to the eye. And nearly everyone seems to take it as a matter of course.

Why not scrub the dirt off? A newspaper in one such city has started demanding "baths for buildings". Soap and water, or sand and water, applied once in a year or two, will accomplish wonders, making old buildings stand out as if new and revealing unsuspected beauties in structures long obscured by accumulated dirt. It is a fine way to freshen up a city business section.

By FLORENCE DAVIES

All hail the newest fashion arena—the Big Political Convention! Very soon now, women by the thousands, who never voted before, stimulated by the excitement of the great national party meetings on a presidential year, will be pouring into New York and Cleveland, where the stage will be set respectively for the Democratic and Republican conclaves.

And the western writers predict that they will be dressed—these beginners in the political world—in the most comfortable and also the most becoming garments that women ever donned. Remember how the funny paragraphs pictured women, a few years ago, always stopping to ask themselves "What shall I wear?" before going to the polls to drop in a little box the ballot for which the suffragists had worked so tirelessly?

Nobody hints at anything of the sort now, for it has become as much a matter of course to see women in voting booths as in market houses and department stores. Certainly Mrs. Jones puts on the same hat and coat and carries the same handbag, when she starts out on a voting errand, as when she goes to buy new asparagus and chops, or knickers and rompers for Sam and Susie.

But on the way she may stop to see some of the delightful new things in the windows, and why shouldn't one look well and be comfortable at the same time, wherever possible? There is no doubt about it, American women are paying more attention to good looks than they once did. And when the big halls fill in New York and in Cleveland, women who have come to help make the conventions a success—and incidentally to have a wonderful time learning the new game of politics—are going to add to the beauty of the occasion.

It is safe to say that nobody would have predicted in advance that standing up to one's political responsibilities would work reform in clothes. It's been coming gradually—the perfectly groomed business woman has had much to do with it—and if one wants to realize how far the matter has progressed, let him picture a delegate in the nine-yards around, dragging skirt, of two or three decades ago, huge sleeves deforming their arms, hat perched atop of uncomfortably skewed, matted masses of hair, waist belted tightly over stiff, high stays.

Pittsburgh—Mrs. Frances Jackson, 58 is dead today, having died from apoplexy yesterday while decorating her husband's grave at West Elizabeth cemetery.

Pittsburgh—Mrs. W. R. Dawson is today suffering with a broken leg as the result of a headstone falling on her while she was listening to a memorial day address by Rev. Dwight L. Myers in the cemetery here. Recent rains are said to have loosened the tombstones causing it to fall on the woman.

Pittsburgh—L. S. Calhoun is under arrest in connection with alleged bogus charity organizations being investigated by Pittsburgh police. Calhoun is said to be the head of the volunteer rescue army, and was arrested last night by detectives after having been sought for a week.

Quakertown—The County Grand Jury will start an investigation Monday of the circumstances surrounding the death of five-year-old Herbert Rupp, who, according to a coroner's jury, died through lack of proper care and poison received through criminal negligence by his mother, Verna Rupp.

Philadelphia—Trustees of the Eastern Penitentiary will resign in a body unless they are given "complete vindication" by Gov. Pinchot, it was announced today, following a grand jury report recommending radical changes in the management of the prison.

Allentown—When police and war veterans went to a cemetery here today to remove a "red" flag which had been nailed to a pole, they found that a little girl had already jerked down the communistic emblem and was trampling it under foot.

If the glasses had been traced to him, he felt confident that no one would so seriously have suspected him as to try to bring him back for questioning. The clothing of their victim, he revealed, was burned in the basement of the Loeb home.

The fathers of the two youths, dumbfounded when they were aroused from their beds early today to be told of the confessions, refused to credit them. Leopold's millionaire father has been an invalid for years. Loeb's father, one of the most prominent business men of Chicago, has been ill since his son's arrest.

As the story of the crime unfolded its perpetration and the motive became more and more perplexing to the police. It was learned that the two youths formed and typed the letters before they even knew the identity of their intended victim. It was stamped and sealed in its envelope and addressed after Robert Franks had been slain. The name of Jacob Franks was scribbled on the envelope as Loeb and Leopold were returning.

It was learned that careful plans had been laid nine months to cover every possible step that might be taken. The boys even went so far as to register at separate hotels under assumed names and to impress on hotel employees that they were living in the establishments. Bank deposits in these names were opened in downtown state banks, it was said by police.

The boy was plain, according to police, five minutes after he had been enticed into the rented automobile. He began to fight. He was struck over the head again and again with the taped club, and then ether was applied.

Police declared after considerable questioning of the two youths and checking one statement against another Leopold probably struck the blow which resulted in the boy's death. Loeb drove the rented automobile to the Loeb home, Leopold driving his father's car, which was placed in the garage.

Loeb, it was learned, is the youngest student ever to graduate from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of arts degree. He was 18 when he received his diploma a year ago. Leopold was to have taken an examination today at the University of Chicago for entrance to the Harvard law school.

He complained yesterday that he feared he would be unable to take the examination and wondered if police would permit him to take it in his cell.

Richard Loeb, one of the confessed slayers, collapsed today in a restaurant where detectives had taken him and Leopold for lunch. The detectives and the two youths had gone to the garage where the maroon colored death car was said to have been rented and later went to the restaurant. Young Loeb suddenly slumped to the floor unconscious. Efforts to revive him prove futile and officers drove him away in an automobile while Leopold looked on in wide-eyed astonishment.

The disappearance of the portable Underwood typewriter on which the extortion note was written to Jacob Franks was explained today when the two youths said it had been thrown into the Jackson Park lake from an automobile which they had hired. Police were ordered to drag the lake.

Loeb and Leopold are each 19 years of age.

Seeing Him Home.

I was coming home from a dance, and I didn't want my escort whom I had just met that evening, to know where I resided. We were walking down the street and I saw a pretty house. I stopped in front of this house and told my escort that I lived there and was obliged for his attention and kindness in taking me home. A look of bewilderment broke out on his face as he said, "Holy smokes, how do you live there when I live there?"—Exchange.

In the Courts

May term of criminal court ended Thursday afternoon with the completion of the Leonard Caramella case.

The following cases were disposed of during the week, in addition to those previously reported: Alex Popoff, of Stronach, who failed to pop off the road into the brush before Sheriff Lowell happened to meet him carrying a quart of white rum in a shoe box, in addition to an over-generous supply under his belt, was fined $100 and costs for illegally possessing liquor.

M. Christoff, of Osceola, got a similar sentence because state cops found a half pint in a coat hanging on the wall in his store when they entered.

John Plevak was sentenced to pay $200 fine and costs and serve 30 days in jail for violating the liquor law.

William Oswald got a $200 fine and 60 days in jail for a similar offense. Joe Daggaro, scheduled for trial on a liquor law violating charge, had his case marked off the docket when the court was informed Daggaro had been called to plead at a higher court, he having led since being indicted.

William Kutules, alias William Mathews, rew down a $200 fine and costs for illegal possession of liquor.

Quinnie Flick, of DuBois, whose case had been scheduled for trial at several courts but was continued because the prosecutrix failed to appear, was released from further worry when the case was finally stricken from the trial list.

A. L. Edwards, Esq., Harry Reese and J. S. Michaels were appointed to view and report on the advisability of vacating a public road from a point on the Bigler and Airport road near the farm of O. L. Williams, thence to a point on the road leading from Bigler to Fairview.

William Liggett, of Hawk Run, was fined $150 and costs for illegally possessing several quarts of liquor.

County Superintendent T. O. He has appointed Prof. Grant N. Nunn, Supervisor of the Carverville Schools, Prof. Wm. Samson, Superintendent of the DuBois Schools, and Prof. Clair Ross, Principal of the Clearfield Junior High School to act as county judges for the American Legion National Essay Contest, title "Why Communism is a Menace to Americanism". Prof. Nunn will serve as chairman of the committee.

The essays must be in the hands of County Superintendent Trostle, Clearfield Pa., no later than midnight of June 15th. The contest has aroused great interest and essays are being received from all parts of the county.

The County Committee of the American Legion will provide medals and awards for the three county winners, which includes Phillipburg. The best of the three essays will be sent to Harrisburg for further consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Chatman have gone to Newport where they expect to visit a sister returning to their home in Jersey City.

A very interesting meeting of the Daily Vacation Bible School was held at the Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening, May 27th. The committee on curriculum outlined their plan for the course of study and the Teachers Committee reported that teachers were being secured. It was reported that the High School Building could not be obtained for use this year due to repair work being done there. It was decided to have the school meet in the three central churches, the Presbyterian, Baptist and Lutheran, a group of scholars being assigned to each church. Each week there will be a general assembly for devotional services.

The services of Mr. Clair Ross, Principal of Junior High, to act as principal and registrar of the Vacation Bible School, were very fortunately secured. Everything is being put into shape and a large attendance and much interest is expected.

David Price, veteran of the Civil war and native of Earhart township, Clearfield county, died at his home in Bellefonte on May 22d, after a lingering illness due to cancer, in his 87th year.

The deceased resided at Earhart for many years and was one of the leading citizens of the lower end of the county. He came to Clearfield about 20 years ago and resided here for a number of years before making his home in Bellefonte, where he had lived for the past five or six years.

David Price was a veteran of the Civil war with an enviable war record. He fought at Bull Run, Gettysburg and in many other battles and was an inmate of the notorious Andersonville prison for some time when a part of his outfit was captured by the confederates.

He is survived by his widow, four daughters and two sons. One sister, Mrs. James Starn, of Clearfield, also survives.

The funeral occurred on Saturday, May 24. Interment was made at Keewardin cemetery.

"Nemeses"

Nemeses was a goddess of justice and divine retribution. The word comes from a Greek verb meaning to deal out, distribute, dispense. In Greek mythology Nemeses was a goddess personifying allotment, or the divine distribution to every man of his precise share of fortune, good and bad. It was for special function to see that the proper proportion of individual prosperity was preserved, and that anyone who became too prosperous or was too much uplifted by his prosperity should be reduced or punished.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
Washington, May 21.—With a score of vice presidential booms under way, the political master minds of both major parties were engaged today in the difficult problem of selecting "running mates" to the standard bearers of next November.

For the first time in decades, much caution was exercised in casting about for second place nominees.

In the Democratic ranks two groups of vice presidential candidates were being groomed. One, from the west, was favored if the Democratic nominee for President comes from the east and the other from Atlantic seaboard states, was under consideration by party leaders in event a weaker head the November ticket.

The Western Democratic group included Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, who directed the Daugherty investigation, Governor William E. Sweet, of Colorado and Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska. In the Eastern group were Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, and Governor George Silver, of New Jersey.

A dozen other Democratic booms were in motion but party leaders were said to favor these two groups over all others. The ultimate selection, however, will not be made until the New York convention has spoken its verdict on the Democratic standard-bearer.

The Republican situation was different. The running mate for President Coolidge will be chosen before the Cleveland convention convenes. For this reason, Lowden was reported to have the "inside track" as President Coolidge's first personal choice.

His administrative record as Governor of Illinois, his geographical position and his popularity among farmers because of his connection with the largest co-operative marketing association in the west were the principal assets of his boom.

Republican spokesmen were not certain Lowden would accept the post because of his retirement from politics four years ago. If he does not, it is said Secretary Hoover would be asked to run.

It was contended that Hoover's popularity among housewives, his progressive views and following among farmers would make him an ideal running mate for the President.

Governor Hyde was being boosted independently by Western Administration leaders. They urged Hyde because of his gubernatorial record his pulling power in the doubtful state of Missouri and his career as a real dirt farmer.

Although reports were current the president would select his running mate from these three men, a half dozen other names were boomed for the post. They included Senators Borah of Idaho, Watson, of Indiana, and Capper of Kansas; Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana; Charles G. Dawes of Chicago and Major General James G. Harbord, former Chief of State of the A. E. F.

The extreme caution exercised by both parties in selecting the second place candidates was prompted by a general feeling that LaFollette might throw the November election to the House of Representatives.

Mr. Clara McLaughlin, of Clarion, is confined to the home of her nephew James McLaughlin on Park street, as the result of injuries received in an automobile wreck which occurred between Clearfield and Curwensville on Thursday afternoon last.

Mrs. McLaughlin was one of a party of relatives who had been in Clearfield attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Alice McLaughlin. They were on their way home to Clarion when their car was wrecked. Mrs. McLaughlin was thrown from the car and badly bruised and shaken up. Mrs. Della Greybill received a badly sprained ankle, while Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ransom, the other members of the party both suffered numerous cuts and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Short and Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Gardner attended the funeral of Editor Charles R. Kutz, of the Centre Democrat at Bellefonte last afternoon.

FUNERAL HELD FROM TRAIN

The remains of Emerson Fullington, son of the late Charles Fullington, who died at his home in Fremont, Nebraska, will arrive in Clearfield on the Pennsylvania train due here at 10:45 on Sunday morning.

The funeral will be held from the train. Interment will be made at Hillcrest cemetery and local friends of the deceased will be given opportunity to view the remains at the cemetery before interment is made.

The deceased was 40 years of age.

Tom Sims Says

The average crop of a decent man is 100 bushels. The crop of a general question varied.

End news from England. Most of the war seedlings are failures. Farmers are busy now to get the seedling.

No matter how rough the sea of matrimony you can steer safely by following the chart.

The chief trouble with being a man is shoving things longer than snoring on a little longer.

A conservative estimate would be that half the fruit jars have been held since at one time in their lives.

When a man tells about a fish he caught the just stretches.

Twelve men are planning to fly over the North Pole, which will be quite a bit of excitement for the pole cats.

A man in a new spring suit feels as conspicuous as if he had just had his hair cut.

School Children's Coloring Contest--224 Prizes

IT IS EASY TO WIN--THERE ARE 14 PRIZES EACH WEEK

Little Artists, here is a page that will interest you. It offers an opportunity to show your ability and to use your artistic "knack" to win prizes. It's lots of fun, and there is money in it besides.

Prizes will be awarded each week to those who reproduce the colors of all the original labels, packages, trade-marks or designs on this page most carefully, faithfully and neatly. The designs which are black and white reproductions of original labels, packages, trade-marks and designs, are to be colored in the most artistic manner and judging will be done on this basis, together with the neatness of the work. The coloring may be done either in water colors or crayons. This contest is open to school children everywhere. PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED EACH WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

FIRST PRIZE, $5.00; SECOND PRIZE, $3.00; THIRD PRIZE, $1.00; FOURTH PRIZE, $1.00.

The next ten in order of merit will receive a ticket to the Liberty theatre for Saturday afternoon. This contest will run for 16 weeks. At the close an additional prize of $10.00 will be awarded the child turning in the best page during this period.

IMPORTANT! All designs on this page must be colored and the entire page sent in. Where original labels and

All the merchandise bearing labels and trade-marks appearing on this page can be purchased in the stores you patronize. They are all high-class products in daily use in all families. You are familiar with most of them; if there are any you cannot color from memory, procure one of the packages and enter the contest. After you have colored the entire page, mail it to the "School Children's Contest," Clearfield Progress. All efforts must be in the Progress office on or before 6 p. m. the first Tuesday after the page is published. The week's prize winners will be announced the following Friday.

ASK YOUR PARENTS AND OLDER BROTHERS AND SISTERS TO HELP YOU. START TODAY. You can have a jolly good time at it, improve your drawing ability and surely win one of the 224 prizes to be given for the work.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. F. B. Fitchwater, D.D., Teacher of Sunday School in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Copyright 1924, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON TEXT—II Chron. 36:11-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."—Prov. 14:24.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Destruction of Jerusalem.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Nation in Ruins.

I. The Sins of the Nation (vv. 11-16).

(1) Zedekiah, the King (vv. 11-13).
(2) Insubordination to God's prophet (v. 12). In the theocratic government of Israel God's prophet occupied a higher place than the king himself. The prophet was God's messenger. Instead of receiving Jeremiah as God's messenger and conforming his life to God's will as made known by the prophet he refused to humble himself before God.

(3) Rebellion against Nebuchadnezzar (vv. 14-16). Zedekiah was made king of Judah by the king of Babylon but he did not acknowledge him as his sovereign. He rebelled against him by Jerusalem (vv. 17, 18, 20-23). He rebelled against the king of Babylon by his refusal to surrender (v. 19). He rebelled against God by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning (v. 20). He rebelled against the people by his refusal to listen to the people's warning (v. 21).

(4) The king followed the heathen (v. 18). The king followed the heathen in his worship of idols and in his practice of magic and witchcraft.

(5) The king polluted the house of the Lord (v. 19). The house of the Lord was polluted by the king's idolatry and by his practice of magic and witchcraft.

(6) The king rejected God's messengers (v. 20). The king rejected God's messengers by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(7) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(8) The king rejected God's prophets (v. 16). The king rejected God's prophets by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(9) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(11) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(13) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(14) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(16) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(17) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(19) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(21) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(22) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(23) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(24) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(25) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(26) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

(28) The king rejected God's word (v. 21). The king rejected God's word by his refusal to listen to the prophet's warning.

Tyrone Division Keyman Gets Pennsy Hero Medal For His Act Of Heroism

Tyrone, Pa., May 29, 1924 (Tyrone Division Publicity)—John W. Saxton, the well known young Tyrone Division operator at Unionville who so signally distinguished himself a hero at his tower on the 8th of last June, when he snatched a two year old child from death in the face of the fast approaching Lehigh Express at the risk of his own life and limb, was one of the twenty-seven Pennsylvania Railroad employees to be presented with the Company's bronze medal for the performance of extraordinary acts of valor by President Samuel Rea at Broad street Station on Wednesday of this week.

The medal, which is of bronze, is 2 1/2 inches in diameter. On the face of it there is a reproduction of the largest type passenger engine now in service. Under this are the words, "All honor attend you in your valor!"

On the reverse side there is a large keystone encircled by a laurel wreath. The keystone contains a facsimile of the official seal of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, above which has been inscribed the name of the employee to whom the medal is awarded, as well as the date on which the heroic service was performed.

The facts of Saxton's heroic act bear repetition at this time: He heard Lehigh whistle for the crossing at Unionville station, and at the same time saw little Andrew Jackson Robinson, son of John Robinson track foreman at Unionville, waddle up on the track and step. He realized that it was too late to pull the board on the engine, so he rushed from the tower and snatched little John off the track just a fraction of a second before the heavy express thundered by. It was a deed of pure, unadulterated heroism, and Saxton richly deserves the great honor that has been bestowed upon him.

Rotan, Texas.—"I am writing to let you know how I have been benefited by taking your medicine. After my second baby was born my back was weak and hurt me continually, so I thought I'd try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had read so much about where it had helped so many women. I had been bothered with my back for over a year, and it would hurt me until I could not do my work, which is keeping house for three and cooking and washing dishes. I tell all my friends if they have any kind of female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. You may use this testimonial if it will help any one."

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.
